A REGION WITH ETERNAL VERSES

MARCHE REGION

*“Così tra questa immensità s’annega il pensier mio:
E il naufragar m’è dolce in questo mare”*
Giacomo Leopardi

Who are

The Region is characterised by a strong homogeneity: a large part of the territory is hilly, the inhabited centres are mostly located on the summits of the hills and the agrarian landscape, derived from sharecropping, is everywhere characterised by numerous small plots of land, bordered by centuries-old oaks and marked by farmhouses; the percentage of scattered population is in this respect among the highest in Italy. From the anthropic point of view, the Region is just as homogenous: despite the considerable variety of dialects, the character of the inhabitants is described in texts as uniform throughout the territory. Moreover, Marche's history has been characterised by a series of parallel autonomies in each area; in fact, the very plural of the name enshrines its fundamental unity despite the wealth of local aspects. Indeed, the vocation for autonomy in each area is paradoxically the most unifying factor. The economy is characterised by a peculiar economic-entrepreneurial model, defined as the 'Marche model'.

Marche is Art.

The region is also characterised by a singular wealth of internationally renowned artists and scholars: Raffaello Sanzio the genius from Urbino who was one of the greatest interpreters of Renaissance painting; Gioacchino Rossini one of the greatest opera composers in the history of music; Giacomo Leopardi one of the greatest poets of 19th century Italy and one of the most important figures in world literature Maria Montessori, known for her revolutionary teaching method, applied in thousands of schools worldwide; Gentile da Fabriano one of the most representative painters of the international Gothic period; Ciriaco d'Ancona the father of archaeology; Donato Bramante architect painter and one of the main artists of the Renaissance; Padre Matteo Ricci one of the greatest disseminators of western culture in China and a scholar of eastern civilisation; and finally the two famous composers Giovanni Battista Pergolesi and Gaspere Spontini.
